

I work with the Developmentally Disabled and they become a target for telemarketers as an easy mark. Our consumers often are not able to say no to these people seeing them as authority figures and that they must buy what ever they are selling. I personally do not want people hounding me at night in my home. I can choose my own products and services that I need. Please do not weaken the WI no call list rules. WE all need protection from these people!!! Please let me make the choice of who I want to call me.
